

János Bak Fellowship Award for the MA programs in Medieval Studies at the Central European University

For the 2023-24 academic year, the János Bak Research Fellowship board is offering two awards of 2000 EUR each to support study in one of the MA programs in Medieval Studies at the CEU. The funding is intended to cover the partial costs associated with studying in Vienna for any applicant with a particular interest in the medieval history of Central, East-Central and Eastern Europe. Award-winners in the 2-year program will have their awards renewed for the second year of study, subject to the successful defense of the thesis prospectus and a GPA above 3.5.

Application process:

- A completed CEU application for either the 1-year or 2-year MA program in Medieval Studies (proof of submitted application necessary)
- A letter (of up to 300 words) explaining the applicant's interest in the history of medieval Central, East-Central and Eastern Europe, and how they are going to make it part of their studies at the CEU. It may include plans for the MA thesis topic.
- A short CV (can be the same as the one submitted to the CEU application)

Please submit all documents to bakfellowship@ceu.edu

Application deadline: 10 February 2023. Successful applicants will be informed by 30 April 2023.

Contact: Professor Emilia Jamroziak, the Chair of the Board of the János Bak Fellowship Board. E.M.Jamroziak@leeds.ac.uk